Vol. 7, no. 5

April 1986

MAP DEPOSITORY LIBRARY ADDRESS CHANGES

The U.S. Geological Survey distributes its maps, as well as those of the Defense Mapping Agency, to map depository libraries that participate in the GPO/USGS/DMA program. The program is administered by GPO, which prepares computer tapes that list the address and item selections for each participating map depository library. GPO forwards the tapes to USGS for generation of mailing labels that are placed on map packages for distribution to the libraries. The tapes are updated and furnished by GPO to USGS on a six month cycle. Therefore, whenever it becomes necessary to change a library's address (including a change to another location on campus for university libraries, or adding a department name or building name to an existing address), please alert GPO to the need (see Administrative Notes, vol. 6, no. 3, 3/85) and allow up to six months for the maps sent on depository to reflect the change on the package label. Because of the large volume of maps distributed (6-7 million maps annually) and personnel limitations, USGS will not make labels manually as a stop-gap while awaiting the next updated GPO tape.

GEOLOGIC MAP INDEXES

It has recently come to our attention that the U.S. Geological Survey Map Indexes have two SuDoc class numbers assigned in the List of Classes. The SuDoc class number I 19.41/8: and item number 0619-C, which were assigned prior to the USGS/DMA/GPO map project, have been cancelled. The Geologic Map Indexes will be distributed under SuDoc class number I 19.86: and item number 0619-G-28, which were established for the USGS/DMA/GPO map project.

A few Geologic Map Indexes that lacked covers were recently distributed by GPO under the cancelled SuDoc class numbers. The USGS will distribute complete copies of these and future indexes in this series under the SuDoc class number I 19.86: and item number 0619-G-28. Libraries are not required to retain the incomplete copies.

The item name for class I 19.86: will be changed from "GI - Index to Geologic Mapping of the United States" to "Geologic Map Index of (various states)". The description will remain the same as it was.

THE FEDERAL RESERVE SYSTEM BOARD OF GOVERNORS

The Federal Reserve System Board does not require Congressional authorization to expend funds. In addition, the funds received by the Federal Reserve System Board of Governors through assessments against banks "shall not be constructed to be Government funds or appropriated moneys." 12 U.S.C. S 244. Therefore, we have concluded that Federal Reserve System Board of Governors publications are not published "at Government expense" and are not required to be provided to depository libraries.

NATIONAL ARCHIVES LEAFLET ON DOCUMENTS

In its new leaflet, Looking for an Out-of-Print U.S. Government Publication?, the National Archives and Records Administration summarizes the range and scope of U.S. government publications, discusses the Archives' role in preserving them, and directs users in their search for documents, specifying that the "search should begin, not in Washington, but on the local level, at a depository library." The leaflet, number 28 in the General Information Leaflet series, was mailed to depository libraries on shipping list 86-109-P on February 6, 1986, under Item 569 and SuDocs class number AE 1.113:28. Inquiries should be addressed to: Library & Printed Archives Branch (NNIL)

Part Nine

* LUCY FORCUCCI of Palm Springs Public Library, California recently sent me a set of slides showing a special exhibit she created to promote her Depository collection. Ms. Forcucci used display signs, computer-generated banners, a life-size cardboard Uncle Sam, and various sized Depository logos to interest patrons in the Government publications available at her library. Her designs are so colorful and creative that I had duplicates made of 10 of her slides and will be happy to lend them to anyone interested in gathering some effective ideas for promoting a Depository collection.

* A previous issue of Administrative Notes included a notice on the portable display project we're developing. This project involves the distribution of four portable exhibits to Depository Libraries in various parts of the country. To simplify distribution, we divided the Depository system into four regions and asked for one librarian from each region to volunteer as regional coordinator. The coordinator would simply maintain a schedule of which libraries in his/her region are using the units and when. The units will be forwarded from library to library, with the forwarding library paying the minor UPS cost for transporting it to the next library on the schedule.

DAVID HEISSER of Tufts University in Massachusetts is coordinator for Region One and ROBERT WALTER of Pittsburg State University in Kansas is coordinator for Region Three. We still need coordinators for Regions Two and Four before we can begin distributing the exhibits to those parts of the country. As regional coordinator you will naturally have first choice of when you wish to sponsor the exhibit. (You will also have the grand distinction of seeing your name in capital letters in the next issue of Marketing Your Library.) Please check the list below to determine your region. If you are in Region Two or Four and would like to become a coordinator please contact the Library Marketing Specialist at (202) 275-3634.

UPDATE: Just before presstime, two librarians contacted me volunteering to be coordinators for Regions Two and Four! Region Two Coordinator will be PATRICIA BEHLES of the University of Baltimore Law Library, and the Coordinator for Region Four will be KAREN LÖCHER of the University of Houston, Victoria College. Thank you to all the coordinators!

* The DEPOSITORY LIBRARY BUMPER STICKERS are now available! They have been printed and packaged in sets of two; one copy of each slogan. Just fill out the order form at the end of this article to receive your free copies. And remember, these stickers will look great not only on your car, but in your office, on a library cart, in a window, across the side of your briefcase, on your dog...

* As of March 17, 1986, JAN ERICKSON will be the Library Marketing Specialist for the Government Printing Office. Many of you probably know Jan from past Depository Library Council and ALA meetings. She received her M.L.S. from Florida State University and brings to the position extensive knowledge of Depository issues and an appreciation of our marketing philosophy. Jan has been instrumental in the development of automated systems to support the Depository Library Program. She will be responsible for continuing the promotional and educational projects already established, and for developing new marketing strategies to publicize the Depository Program.

As Jan begins her new position, I will be moving to the role of Marketing Research Analyst within the Marketing Office. I want to take this opportunity to thank all of you for the enthusiastic support you have given me during my tenure as Library Marketing Specialist, and I hope you will continue to provide us with your encouragement and participation in our public awareness campaigns. Thank you for all your kindnesses and I look forward to hearing about all of your promotional activities from Jan.
